QUESTION PRESENTED FOR REVIEW

Whether this Court should grant the instant petition for writ of habeas corpus on a claim of actual innocence for the offenses of first-degree murder (two counts) and attempted murder (one count) which were sustained in state court in that the United States District Court for the Central District of California incorrectly affirmed the convictions in state court contrary to the decisions of this Court in Schlup v. Delo, 513 US 298, 115 S.Ct. 851, 130 L.Ed.2d 808 (1995), and Herrera v. Collins, 506 US 390, 113 S.Ct. 853, 122 L.Ed.2d 203 (1993).

ORDER

Before: HUG and RAWLINSON, Circuit Judges.

The request for a certificate of appealability is denied. See 28 U.S.C. § 2253(c)(2). All pending motions are denied.

If petitioner wishes to file a second or successive 28 U.S.C. § 2254 petition in the district court, petitioner must first move this court for an order authorizing the district court to consider that petition. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3). If petitioner files an application in this court for the authorization order, petitioner must show that:

(A) the claim relies on a new rule of constitutional law, made retroactive to cases on collateral review by the Supreme Court, that was previously unavailable; or

(B)(i) the factual predicate for the claim could not have been discovered previously through the exercise of due diligence; and

(ii) the facts underlying the claim, if proven and viewed in light of the evidence as a whole, would be sufficient to establish by clear and convincing evidence that, but for constitutional error, no reasonable factfinder would have found the applicant guilty of the underlying offense.

28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(2).

The Clerk shall serve on petitioner with this order a copy of the unofficial form successive petition request.

No motions for reconsideration, modification, or clarification of this order shall be filed or entertained.

QUESTION(S) PRESENTED

1. Whether I was denied due process of law and equal protection to the law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States when the trial court denied me 18 months of presentence credit?

2. Whether the California Courts denied me due process of law in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution when they failed to apply the standards established By the California Supremem Court in People v. Bruner 40 Cal. Rptr. 2d 534 (Cal. 1995) to my case.

3. Whether I was denied due process of law by the U.S. Court of Appeals for the NInth Judicial Circuit in application for leave to file successive habeas corpus petition because 28 U.S.C §2244(b)(2)(B)(ii) requires that "...but ffor Constitutional error, no reasonable factfinder would have found the applicant guilty of the underlying offense," and that my claim of denial of presentence credit, which ultimately resulted in 18 months of illegal restraint in violation of the laws and Constitution of the UNited STates, was "...a fundamental miscarriage of justice," but which is not relevant to "actual innocence?"

4. Whether avenue for relief should be codified to allow successive habeas filers to enter through the AEDPA "Gatekeeping Mechanism" pursuant to the "fundamental miscarriage of justice."

ORDER

Before: RYMER, THOMAS and SILVERMAN, Circuit Judges

The application for authorization to file a second or successive 28 U.S.C. § 2254 habeas corpus petition in the district court is denied. Petitioner has not made a prima facie showing under 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(2) that:

(A) the claim relies on a new rule of constitutional law, made retroactive to cases on collateral review by the Supreme Court, that was previously unavailable; or

(B)(i) the factual predicate for the claim could not have been discovered previously through the exercise of due diligence; and (ii) the facts underlying the claim, if proven and viewed in light of the evidence as a whole, would be sufficient to establish by clear and convincing evidence that, but for constitutional error, no reasonable fact finder would have found the applicant guilty of the underlying offense.

No petition for rehearing or motion for reconsideration shall be filed or entertained in this case. See 28 U.S.C. § 2244(b)(3)(E).

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA

COUNTY OF SANTA CLARA

In re)	No. 178021
WILLIAM SIMPSON BRUCE III,)	ORDER
On Habeas Corpus)
_____)

WILLIAM SIMPSON BRUCE III, (hereinafter Petitioner), petitions for a writ of habeas corpus alleging that he is entitled to presentence custody credits for time he spent in county jail. Because Petitioner served an unrelated violation of parole sentence during the time he spent incarcerated before sentencing his petition will be denied. At the time of sentencing in the present case Petitioner had served a twelve-month parole violation sentence that was imposed in part because Petitioner had failed to report to his parole officer.

"Upon sentence for a particular offense, a defendant is entitled to credit for all the time in custody prior to sentencing which is

Exhibit 12

1 attributable to that offense. (Pen. Code, § 2900.5, subd. (b).)
2 Where custody is attributable solely to another offense, however, no
3 credit is allowed." (People v. Odom (1989) 211 Cal.App.3d 907, 909-
4 910.)

5 [W]here a period of presentence custody stems from 6 multiple, unrelated incidents of misconduct, such custody
7 may not be credited against a subsequent formal term of 8 incarceration if the prisoner has not shown that the 9 conduct which underlies the term to be credited was also a
10 "but for" cause of the earlier restraint. (People v.
11 Bruner (1995) 9 Cal.4th 1178, 1194.)

12 Thus, "a prisoner is not entitled to credit for presentence
13 confinement unless he shows that the conduct which led to his 14 conviction was the sole reason for his loss of liberty during the 15 presentence period." (Id. at 1191.) Where a defendant is in custody
16 in two different cases,

17 The first court to sentence should do so without regard to 18 the other case, giving credit from the date the defendant
19 was arrested on that case or a hold was placed due to it.
20 Once that has been done, the defendant has been de facto
21 sentenced to a term which commenced as of the arrest or 22 hold date. When the second court imposes a sentence, if it
23 ever does, it will not give credit for time already
24 credited to the first sentence, avoiding duplicative
25 credit. Thus, the defendant will receive credit once, and 26 only once, for presentence custody time. (People v.
27 Lathrop (1993) 13 Cal.App.4th 1401, 1405.)

28 It is the burden of the petitioner seeking pre-sentence custody credits to allege the facts and circumstances upon which he relies for the relief he seeks. (Compare In re Nickles (1991) 231
Cal.App.3d 415, 419 [petitioner seeking pre-sentence custody credits under Pen. Code section 2900.5 where the conduct credits are mixed has the burden of proving entitlement to credits].)

In the present case the additional actual days of custody credits that Petitioner seeks were counted as part of his violation
